Commonweal Chief Wants Populists to Run Him for President.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 17.-The Army of the Commonweal was astir by daylight this morning preparing for its barge trip to Williamsport. "Tooting John" White, the bugler, shrieked the reveille from the grand stand at the edge of the ball park camp mountains on the east of the river. The men rolled out of bed, sweeping down their apology for a tent and swiftly bunding it with the bedding into the waxons. There was scant time for a perfunctory washing before the line of march was formed and the army plunged down into the deep canyon, through which the pike runs into Cumberland.

The mists and shadows still hung about the towering rock walls, 500 feet above, and through the cold, still air the "archers went, echaing up the rolling strains of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Solemnity was changed to laughter as the army made its way through the cown swapping rude jests with the crowd on the sidewalks, where sail the prominent citizens of the town had turned out to bid them God-speed.

Carl Browne and Coxey made short farewell addresses from the canal bank before they started down stream, thanking the people for he kindness that had been shown the army and promising to march back over better roads than Cumberland had ever seen, all of which was to be the result of the Hond Issue bills the Commonweal was going to have passed through Congress.
